

Directions from Newnan:

You have 3 choices: the good, the bad & the ugly. The good route is the backroad meander. The bad is U.S. Hwy 29 (not so bad, all in all). And the ugly is I-85 at 70 mph. Since you are coming to a nursery (not a "garden center") you could choose the good and make the entire outing pleasant, but. . .

Good: Leave the square in Newnan on Hwy 29 N. A mile or so north of the town square Jackson Street goes off to your left just before you come the original Sprayberry's Barbecue on your right. (If you pass Sprayberry's, you've missed Jackson St. & great Brunswick Stew). Turn left on Jackson Street. Stay on it as it changes name and becomes GA Hwy 70. Go past Dunaway Gardens on your left & through the old artist community of Roscoe. Stay on #70 until you leave Coweta County & are greeted by a sign that welcomes you to Fulton County. As soon as you enter Fulton County check your wallet & prepare to turn right as Hutcheson (a/k/a Hutchinson) Ferry Rd goes off to the right immediately. Turn right. You are now going mostly east & the Chattahoochee River is at your back. Carry on until you reach Cochran Mill Rd only on your left, where you turn. I've never measured the distance but it is easily 8 or 10 miles. As a forewarning you will see a sign on your left for "Goodes" Georgia; this is perhaps 2 miles before you reach Cochran Mill Road. You are now going mostly north on Cochran Mill Rd, continue until you come to the first road on your right, Wilkerson Mill Rd. (about 2 miles). Turn right on WM Road & we are the first entrance/drive on the left after you cross the bridge.

Bad: Leave Newnan on Hwy 29 N as above but never waver. Eventually #29 comes to the little town of Palmetto. Go to the second stoplight (of two) and turn left onto GA Hwy 154. Follow #154 about a mile & a half to the first crossroads, which is at the top of a hill. This is Wilkerson Mill Rd. You have the right-of-way but be careful because of the limited vision due to topography. When safe, turn left on Wilkerson Mill Rd and proceed to the nursery about 3 miles on your right.

Ugly: Get on I-85 going north and put your foot on the right pedal & steer. Don't talk on your cell phone or listen to the radio – pay attention. At Exit #56 (Palmetto) get off and turn left back over the roadrace. Follow this road (variously the Tyrone Road & Weldon Road) until it deadends in about 3 miles at US Hwy 29, south of Palmetto. Turn right on #29 & then follow the directions under "Bad" for the approach via Hwy 29.
